1. NAME AND SCOPE

The name of the association is the African Association for the Study of Religions (AASR). The AASR is an association for the study of the religions of Africa and its Diaspora. AASR is a regional member society of the International Association for the History of Religions (IAHR). The AASR Constitution is modelled after the Constitution of IAHR (which may be subject to modification under article 8 of the IAHR Constitution). Like the IAHR, AASR is an interdisciplinary, non-confessional association for the academic study of religions.

2. PURPOSE

The purpose of the African Association for the Study of Religions is

- to promote the academic study of religions in Africa, and
- to promote the study of the religions of Africa and its Diaspora worldwide through the international collaboration of all scholars in Africa and elsewhere whose research has a bearing on the subject.

The AASR aims to stimulate the academic study of religions in Africa

1. by providing a forum for multilateral communications between scholars of the religions of Africa and its Diaspora;
2. by facilitating the exchange of resources and information between them;
3. by encouraging the development of linkages and research contacts between scholars and institutions in Africa, as well as between scholars in Africa and those elsewhere;
4. by developing publishing opportunities, particularly for scholars based in Africa;
5. by assisting African scholars to attend academic conferences both in Africa and elsewhere;
6. by organising conferences in Africa on the religions of Africa and its

Diaspora, and panels on the religions of Africa and its Diaspora in conferences outside Africa;

7. by maintaining a bulletin, a website and an e-journal as major media of communication between AASR members and other scholars of the religions of Africa and its Diaspora around the world;

8. by creating and maintaining an AASR Register of Members;

9. by co-operating with, and enhancing the work of, other African IAHR affiliates, such as the Association for the Study of Religions in Southern Africa (ASRSA), the Nigerian Association for the Study of Religion (NASR), etc. AASR members are encouraged to join also the IAHR-affiliated associations in their respective countries or regions where such associations exist.

3. MEMBERSHIP

a. Membership is open to scholars of religions working in the fields of African indigenous religions, Islam in Africa and the African Diaspora, Christianity in Africa and its Diaspora, new religious movements, and other religions practised on the continent, such as Hinduism and Judaism, as well as in the religions of the African Diaspora. Scholars in the study of any other religion, who are appointed at an academic institution in Africa, may also apply for membership.

b. Applicants will be admitted after they have completed the AASR Membership Form at:

<https://www.a-asr.org//membership/> and have paid the annual membership fee that has been set for their region. Their application should also show evidence of academic qualifications.

c. Membership is terminated by

1. failure to pay membership fees. Following the Treasurer's invitation to all members in January to pay the membership fee for the upcoming year, the Treasurer will send out a reminder in April to those who have not yet paid. Those who still have not paid by July 1st will receive a second and last reminder informing them that they will be deregistered on 1st August, if they have not paid by then.

2. a notice of termination of membership sent by an AASR member to the AASR General Secretary, AASR Representative, regional or national, and/or AASR Officer maintaining the AASR Register of Members
